Hong Fook Mental Health Association (Association) was established in 1982 to address the mental health concerns in the East & Southeast Asian communities. The Association aims to help people with linguistic and cultural barriers to gain access to mental health services, within the Greater Toronto Area.

HF Connecting Health Nurse Practitioner-Led Clinic (NPLC), founded in 2013 and supported by the Ontario Ministry of Health, is an innovative primary healthcare model led by Nurse Practitioners. It prioritizes improving access to care and enhancing service quality for clients without a primary healthcare provider.

DEADLINE: APRIL 12, 2024
